LEGISLATIVE AFFAIRS.

Charles Lever gives us an amusing colloquy between the brother of an eminent Irish barrister and a distinguished personage who was on a tour through the Emerald Isle. The subject was the manner in which the barrister succeeded in obtaining verdicts. "What is his peculiar mode with the jurors?" asks the visitor. "Well, you see," responds the eulogising brother, "he first butchers them up and then slithers them down." We think our morning contemporary is emulating in a weak manner the Irish barrister. In Saturday's issue we have one half the editorial devoted to "butchering" up the Liberal members of the House in their course on the estimates and the other half to "slithering" them down. We do not expect the Chronicle to come out, to use a rather inelegant but forcible expression, "flafted" on any subject. It has a happy knack of "straddling the fence;" and on the Assembly's work of Friday last we could have no other dissertation than the usual "Two and two make four; and two and two make five." Retrenchment was good—retrenchment was necessary but then the Liberal members should not have taken the initiative. It was right that the House of Assembly should have cut down the official salaries; but then how dare the Liberal members undertake to do it?

All this was bad; but the offence was aggravated by deciding upon the scheme outside the House. To think that the public business of the country should be confided to men who met in secret conclave to arrange the political programme that is to be laid before the Assembly! Who ever heard of so monstrous an outrage on a representative body? Even in responsible Governments who ever heard of the ministerial supporters or the opposition meeting outside the Legislative halls to decide on their political course of action? The thing is preposterous! The way the business of the House of Commons is carried on is patterned after Donnybrook, where every man had his own say, and dared his neighbor to contradict him. There is no such thing as preconcerted action. The same thing may be said of the Canadian and every other respectable colonial Legislature. The whole work is extemporized when the members meet, every one pitched in indiscriminately, and a "free fight" ensues all round. How could they get through the business of the session? Let us suppose, for an instant, that the Ministry concocted their schemes and plans outside the House—that their supporters were made aware of the programme, and that everything so far as they were concerned was cut and dried before the House met—can any one not see that the termination of the session would be indefinitely prolonged? The way really to carry on the public business with despatch is to ignore preparation—to go into the House of Assembly an unorganized body, a respectable mob, with neither head nor tail, object nor aim. It was by such good management that Vancouver Island got through her ten months' sessions in previous years, and why should we not take the Chronicle's advice and come back to it? Well, we shall say why. We want to see the business of the colony carried through the Legislature in a couple of months. We want men to go into the House with a purpose before them, with a clear comprehension of the work that is to be done and the method to accomplish it. We want a band of organized representatives bound together to carry out the public will—to inaugurate reforms and to save the pockets of the inhabitants. We are glad to say that for the first time in the history of the colony there is an independent majority in the Assembly, and one that, come what may, will receive the full endorsement of the public. The mudlin tears which our contemporary shed on Saturday over the action of the Liberal members are merely so much waste brine, which had better be hoarded up for more profitable occasions. They will certainly affect neither the public nor the House of Assembly. The scheme of retrenchment which has been commenced will be carried out. It is not haphazard nor an unsystematic scheme, but a carefully prepared plan for reducing the public expenditure, and the minority in the House have no reason to say it has not been sufficiently explained item by item so far as it has gone. There is neither confusion nor blundering; there is not an amalgamation of offices, not a reduction of officials, not a curtailment of salary but has been properly considered and adapted to the exigencies of the times. There is certainly nothing in the Liberal members' programme that can make the public service any less efficient than it has been; but much that will have the double effect of reducing taxation and saving the public time; for the Executive under the new arrangement will be obliged to dispense with much of that red-tape, which has had the effect of employing a needless number of officials, of consuming a needless quantity of stationery, and which has caused the public to dance attendance at nearly every department of Government before they could get the most trifling bill against the Executive paid. The charge made by some of the obstructive members in the House, and echoed by our obstinate contemporary, that partially was shown in the retrenchment which has been made is too ridiculous almost for comment. Every person acquainted with our system of Government knows that appointments are not filled by the Assembly, but by the Executive, and that if the House abolished or amalgamated the office of Treasurer with some other department of Government, the Governor determines whether the official removed might not better fill the position of assessor, &c., than the gentleman who by the action of the House has been left to manage the office. All such changes, if any are to be made, belong to the Governor. All the House has to do is to cut down the expenses and leave His Excellency to work out the other portion of the problem. If in these changes the Governor retains men who are notoriously unpopular or unfit, in preference to those who have shown a desire to accommodate the public and a capacity for their position, that is his responsibility. The time, however, is not far distant when the House on the part of the people will see that those men only shall hold office who are acceptable to the public.

MAIL STEAM SERVICE TO THE NORTH.—The settlers at Comox and intermediate settlements will be pleased to learn that the screw steamer Sir James Douglas is announced to run regularly until further notice for the Northern Settlements, weather permitting, on the following days: From Victoria to Nanaimo, leaving on Tuesday at 8 a.m.; from Cowichan 1 p.m., Maple Bay 2 p.m., Salt Spring Island 2:30 p.m., arriving at Nanaimo at 6 p.m. where she will remain over Wednesday and will leave on her return on Thursday at 8 a.m.; Salt Spring about 11:30 a.m., Comox about 1 p.m., Qualicum 1 p.m., reaching Victoria at 6 p.m. For Comox she will leave Victoria every other week as above stated, and Nanaimo at 7 a.m. on Wednesday, arriving at Comox about 1 p.m. where she will remain overnight starting on her return at 7 a.m. on Thursday and reaching Nanaimo about 1 p.m., where she will remain overnight, leaving Nanaimo at 8 a.m. on Friday and calling at the places before stated.

THE AMATEUR PERFORMANCE.—Great preparations are being made for the coming performance, with every prospect of a rich treat being afforded to the patrons of the theatre on Wednesday evening. Numerous local hits and allusions will be introduced, and it is safe to say that such an association of beauties, queens, fairies, nymphs and other specimens of the animal, vegetable and sylphid kingdom never appeared on this stage before. The private boxes were disposed of at auction on Saturday by Mr. McCrae, and as soon as the box office was opened there was a rush to secure front seats.

The affair was a runaway success from the first four p.m. In our advertising columns the amateurs and others will find the manager's calls for rehearsal, which it is essential should be strictly attended to, as the time is short and none need be afraid of being too perfect.

GONE AWAY.—H. Nind, Esq., for many years a Stipendiary Magistrate of this colony, resigned his commission and took his departure for Australia last week. Mr. Nind was an upright and gentlemanly officer, and endeared himself to a large circle of friends, who will regret his departure—Columbian.

BEARDED INLET.—The Egeria is now nearly loaded. She takes 225 spars for Capt. Stamp and 175 thousand feet of lumber from Moody & Co.'s mills. She will sail for Glasgow direct. The Kent has nearly discharged her cargo and will load with lumber at Moody & Co.'s mills for Mexico.—Columbian.

THE STEAMER ACTIVE.—By our special telegraph it will be seen that this steamer is to leave Portland for this port on Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock; she will therefore be due on Wednesday afternoon.

PRESIDENT.—Yesterday Mr. T. Burnes, on behalf of the congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral in this city, presented a handsome gold headed cane to Mr. M. Grunbaum, the organist of the cathedral, as a token of respect for his valuable and efficient services.

THE WEATHER.—The beautiful weather that we have been enjoying for the past fortnight broke up yesterday with a change of wind to the westward, accompanied by alternate falls of snow and sleet.

THE ESTIMATES.—The further consideration of the Estimates, concerning which so much interest is felt, will come up in committee of supply to-day after the third reading of the Franchise bill.

STEWARD AND BARKEEPR.—A notice appears elsewhere for tenders for Steward and Barkeeeper on board the steamer Sir James Douglas.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.—The time limited for sending applications to the Sheriff for registration of voters expired yesterday.

FROM NANAIMO.—The schooner Meg Merrilles and the sloop Alaris arrived on Saturday with cargoes of coal to R. Brodrick.

SPANISH AND FRENCH CLASSES.—Mons. B Duffus, Graduate of the Academie de Paris, has opened classes in Spanish and French. The Spanish class meet, at 7 o'clock, p.m., on the evenings of Monday, Wednesday, and Friday; and the French class, on the evenings of Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Parties desirous of learning Spanish or French will do well to join the classes without delay, as the basis of these useful languages are laid down in the first lesson. Private lessons given if desired. Mons. B Duffus may be found at his residence, next door to the Colonist office, Langley street.

LADIES AND GENTS wishing to make Christmas and New Year's gifts should call and see E. Marx's well assured stock, comprising Watches, Jewelry of every description, Diamonds, Silver and Silver-plated ware, Musical Boxes and Fancy Goods, all of the latest designs and best quality. Call early, before the choicest goods are taken.

Presents to please everyone; Prices to suit all.

FOR THE GOLD WEATHER.—Superior 10 and 12-4 heavy Witney Family Blankets for sale at VICTORIA HOUSE at low prices. Also, Ladies' Real Seal Mantles and Satin Collettes and Muff, and other desirable winter goods.

DARING ATTEMPT AT ROBERT.—On Friday evening last shortly after dark some burglars effected an entrance into the office of Messrs. Kavanagh & Co., at James Bay, by means of skeleton keys. Behind the office is a private room in which one of the proprietors sleeps; the thieves entered this apartment and attempted to pick the lock of a padlock but were unable to do so, and left when he was noticed by one of the employees, who however thinking that it was his master, merely made an exclamation and allowed the man to pass. The master happened to arrive about the same time, and on finding that they were discovered one of the thieves exclaimed to his companion who carried the portmanteau "dump it!" The article was immediately dropped and the culprits who were apparently well dressed, made off as fast as they could.

J. M. White, a gambler, known among the sporting fraternity as "Colonel White," was convicted in the County Court, yesterday, of dealing in forged. The conviction was for the sale of forged notes of the Lohit. During the examination of witnesses in the case, Chas. Burroughs, proprietor of the rooms where White had been staying, was present in the room and was suddenly called to the stand and compelled to give testimony which convicted the defendant. Since the above the gamblers under indictment have all pleaded to one indictment each, and will be sentenced on the 20th inst. There were fourteen in all who pleaded guilty, being one-half the number of indictments in the County Calendar. The balance of the indictments were dismissed. In addition to the successful game practised by the District Attorney General yesterday, he also summoned a number of patrons of the gambling hells, which no doubt had a great deal to do with bringing the gamblers to terms.

The steam propeller Ajax will leave tomorrow morning for Honolulu, being the pioneer in a monthly line of steamers, here, to ply regularly between San Francisco and the Sandwich Islands. The Ajax takes out on her first trip 75 passengers and about 200 tons of freight.

Portland, Jan. 12.—Steamer Active, from Victoria, arrived last night after a favorable passage. She leaves for Victoria on Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock. The Columbia river is full of ice, and the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's boats are unable to make their usual trips to the Dalles.

THE OTHER CLASS OF OBJECTIONISTS to whom I would like are very aptly represented by your morning contemporary in his article of inimitable diction in his issue of Saturday last. Whilst "with bold man's key and bated breath," he advocates the punishment, he with more willing tongue seizes malignity and abuse upon the men who are evidently and boldly in the service of their public and endeavour to effect a revolution.

The ends are just, but the means are unjustifiable. Such is the language of the Chronicle. He very reluctantly admits the necessity of the result, but evinently disapproves of the means by which that result is accomplished.

Away with such political paragaphy; no common sense man can be hoodwinked by such sophistry. And if I mistake not the popular sentiment of this city, such a shuffling policy as is being pursued by the Chronicle will command, with regard to what it represents, that it will be held in contempt of obsoleteness which is the unavoidable fate of all those who strive to resist the popular will.

Yours,

H. J. MORSE.

From a private letter dated Fort Sheppard, November 27th, 1865, we glean the following information :

The Big Bend diggings are the all absorbing theme. Everybody talks about them, thinks about them, dreams about them, and every available human being is going to them at the earliest possible moment. New creeks are continually reported, while the richness of the older ones, such as French, Cairnes and McCullough's, is being exhausted. It is the general opinion amongst the miners that these mines are extensive and rich—rich beyond anything that has ever been known in this or any other country. Up to the close of this season there has been very little done in the Gold Creek district save prospecting, opening claims, &c. Gold Creek is still a gushing stream with no prospect of getting off until the river is dry. The Columbia river is full of ice, and the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's boats are unable to make their usual trips to the Dalles.
